One of the best known instances of racism is Dickens's portrait of Fagin in his early novel, Oliver Twist, first published in serial form between 1837 and 1839. This portrayal has been seen by many as deeply antisemitic, though others such as Dickens's biographer G. K. Chesterton have argued against this view. The novel refers to Fagin 257 times in the first 38 chapters as "the Jew", while the ...
